Re: La Quinta Inn Vancouver Airport – Phase II Expansion

Steve Behroozi was retained as the Electrical Contractors for La Quinta Inn Vancouver Airport's Phase II Expansion. Steve's team was always proactive, "hands on" and thoroughly professional during all stages of construction. As you might imagine, for a Hotel to open on schedule is off the utmost importance. Steve Behroozi's electrical team remained at all times very conscious of the construction timeline and maneuvered to ensure a timely completion of their work. Their attention to detail and their insistence on fairness when confronted with extras was appreciated. Often, Steve's team went beyond the scope of what was expected of them. Their Project updates were timely and they showed a temperament that was calm and reflective.

I can say with certainty that Steve was highly professional, committed and extremely thorough! I would highly recommend him.

Kindest Regards
